

Shipping Packages

You design boxes for the "Peculiar Package Company." This company prides itself on creating boxes in unique shapes. However, it also makes standard rectangular prism-shaped boxes.

The postal service has recently adopted a policy of only shipping packages that meet certain size requirements. The new regulations state, "The maximum combined length and girth is not to exceed 100 inches."